Lead Clinical Programs Update

SON-1010: Targeted Immune Activation Cancer Therapy, Turning 'Cold' Tumors 'Hot', Initially Targeting Solid Tumors and Platinum-Resistant Ovarian Cancer (PROC)

Phase 1 Trial (SB101 Trial): Advanced Solid Tumors (Monotherapy)

This first-in-human study is primarily designed to evaluate the safety, tolerability, PK, and PD of multiple ascending doses of SON-1010 in cancer patients and is being conducted at several sites across the United States. The Company recently completed enrollment and dose escalation in the Phase 1 SB101 clinical trial of SON-1010 (IL12-F<sub>H</sub>AB) in adult patients with advanced solid tumors. Additionally, the Company reported that results of SON-1010 at the highest dose have been formally evaluated by the Safety Review Committee. The study has enrolled 24 subjects to date. Primary outcome measures for the study were to evaluate the safety and tolerability of SON-1010 and establish the MTD.

For more information about the SB101 clinical trial, visit clinicaltrials.gov and reference identifier NCT05352750.

Phase 1b/2a Trial (SB221 Trial): Advanced Solid Tumors and PROC (Combo with Atezolizumab)

The second trial is a global Phase 1b/2a multicenter, dose-escalation and randomized proof-of-concept study to assess the safety, tolerability, PK, PD, and efficacy of SON-1010 administered subcutaneously (SC) in combination with atezolizumab given intravenously (IV) (in collaboration with Genentech, a member of the Roche Group). This study was recently expanded to include the MTD of SON-1010 from SB101. Enrollment remains ongoing and an update on safety at the MTD in that trial is expected in Q1 2025.

For more information about the SB221 clinical trial, visit clinicaltrials.gov and reference identifier NCT05756907.

SON-1010 Upcoming Milestones

- Phase 1: Solid Tumors (Monotherapy)
  - H1 calendar year 2025: Topline Efficacy Data
- Phase 1b/2a: PROC (Combo with Atezolizumab)
  - Q1 calendar year 2025: Additional Safety Data
  - H2 calendar year 2025: RP2D & Topline Efficacy Data

SON-1210: Proprietary, Bifunctional Version of Human Interleukins 12 (IL-12) and 15 (IL-15), Configured Using Sonnet's Fully Human Albumin Binding (F<sub>H</sub>AB®) platform, in Combination with Chemotherapy for the Treatment of Advanced Solid Tumors and Metastatic Pancreatic Cancer

As previously announced, the Company successfully completed two IND-enabling toxicology studies of SON-1210 in non-human primates (NHPs), which demonstrated no overt toxicity in the GLP study apart from the expected and mild, on-target changes in hematology and clinical chemistry parameters that resolved completely within 14 to 21 days post-dosing. A significant increase in interferon gamma (IFN $\gamma$ ), which was controlled and prolonged, was noted as early as one day following administration, with no apparent increase in other proinflammatory cytokines. IFN $\gamma$  is a well-known pharmacodynamic biomarker that is required for anti-tumor efficacy in preclinical models. Other signs of cytokine imbalance, or uncontrolled increase of pro-inflammatory cytokines (including TNF- $\alpha$ , IL-1 $\beta$ , and IL-6) were notably absent from all dose levels tested in the study.

In August 2024, the Company entered into a Master Clinical Collaboration Agreement with the Sarcoma Oncology Center, to conduct an investigator-initiated Phase 1/2a clinical study to evaluate SON-1210 in combination with several chemotherapeutic agents including but not limited to NALIRIFOX (the combination of liposomal irinotecan, 5-fluorouracil/leucovorin, and oxaliplatin) for the specific treatment of metastatic pancreatic cancer. The NALIRIFOX regimen is U.S. FDA-approved for the treatment of metastatic pancreatic cancer in the front-line and refractory settings.

In October 2024, the Company entered into a licensing agreement (the "Licensing Agreement") with Alkem Laboratories Limited ("Alkem") for the research, development, manufacturing, marketing, and commercialization of its SON-080 molecule for the treatment of DPN in India and the manufacturing, marketing, and commercialization of SON-080 for chemotherapy induced neuropathy (CIPN) and autonomic neuropathy in India. Alkem will conduct all clinical trials it believes appropriate to obtain regulatory approval in India of SON-080 for the treatment of DPN.
